

---

Subject: Re: The KTMA MST3K episodes get potty mouthed with four letter words that the cable episodes didn't

Posted by Anonymous on Fri, 24 Jan 2020 22:01:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Originally posted by: rdc

>> KTMA Episode 1: Invaders from the Deep

>> KTMA Episode 2: Revenge of the Mysterons from Mars

>>

>> They came in the Bonus set of MST3Ks if you pitched in on the >> Kickstarter for Season 11.

>

>

> Wow, really? So they do exist and fans have seen them? Damn, now I'm > really wishing I had contributed to the Kickstarter campaign and > didn't just wait until you could buy the boxed set of Season 11.

>

> Or are you just making that up? I could swear that I read the fine > print of that Kickstarter campaign pretty thoroughly and I don't > remember seeing early KTMA's included in the rewards.

Nah, not making anything up--trolling the Usenet seems pretty far down the priority list at the moment.

There were basically two sets of bonus episodes--there were about 40% of the MST3K in 540p resolution (I would prefer 720, but really, they are a damned sight better than the 320ps I had that were burned off of videotape in the MST3K Preservation Society downloads). Then, they added another dozen or so episodes with the KTMA's--let me check the collection real quick here...

K00: Green Slime (I had that one already--I think it was basically the pilot).

K01: Invades from the Deep in 540p.

K02: Revenge of the Mysterons from Mars in 540p--as a fan of Captain Scarlet in elementary school, I will bet a mortgage payment that the baddies in the title should be "Mysterions". But, hey, whatever.

None of the other KTMA's were included in the bonus sets. I don't recall that during the Kickstarter that they listed the episodes available as a reward bonus, so I can't speak to that.

Also, for completeness sake, for the first season they also included in 540p The Crawling Eye, The Robot vs. the Aztec Mummy (an absolutely cruddy version), Mad Monster, The Corpse Vanishes, Robot Monster (because of course they had to), The Slime People, Robot Holocaust, Moon AZero Two, Untamed Youth, and The Black Scorpion. I also believe it to be the worst of omissions that Rocketship X-M was not included as that is one of my favorites.

-

rdc.

---