Joel was making a Hitchcockian reference-to-commercial involving "head cheese", and then TWO CONSECUTIVE COMMERCIALS appeared involving cheese (!)

Could Joel have foreseen this 30+ years ago? Are there special ad-contracts (involving THE CHEESE COUNCIL no doubt) mandating such synchronicity... in perpetuity? Perhaps it's a sign of the CHEESEPOCALYPSE.

P.S. Of course, at some point the Space Cheese commercials begin. If you're reading this then, please think kindly of our simpler NON-SPACE cheese era!
