I just noticed that, in GSplus 0.14, the [ and ] keys are swapped. :o
(They're not, in 0.13.)

Of lesser concern (since they're rarely programmed for) are Home, PageUp, and PageDown. But, if they're going to yield something, they might as well yield what they do on a real machine (s, t, y, resepctively). :)

And whilst i'm on the subject of the keyboard, is right-alt not being handled as separately from left-alt an SDL limitation, or something? I've somewhat gotten used to using F2 for option; but i still forget from time to time.

Sorry for the laundry-list.

Thanks to everyone involved for improving upon KEGS. :)
