

---

Subject: Retrospective Spring Anime 2020 - 2.5 - The Tsubasa Movie

Posted by Dave Baranyi on Wed, 20 May 2020 00:02:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Watching the “xxxHolic” movie the other night reminded me that I had never watched the “Tsubasa” movie that was released along with the “Holic” movie in the Funi DVD release. So I decided to finally watch the Tsubasa movie as something of a Completionist activity. I didn’t care for the Tsubasa anime so I wasn’t expecting much, but WTH – what’s another half hour plus wasted on anime after all of these years? LOL

Well, the Tsubasa movie wasn’t as bad as I had expected from reading comments from hard core Tsubasa series fans. The movie is an okay little side-story with reasonable animation and a quick pace. There is nothing unique here but I wasn’t expecting anything. To a good extent it reminded me of the 80s OAVs I used to watch on the Japanese Kids’ Channel in the late 90s - pretty to look at and devoid of pretensions.

So there – another unwatched anime is added to my MAL “watched” list. Now to decide what I will re-watch next.

Dave Baranyi

---