
Subject: Replacement for Appleworks 6.0 DB

I'm trying to find a replacement DB that will open my old Appleworks DB files. I've tried Microsoft Office and apparently that doesn't have DB anymore. I've tried open office and I can't get it to open my old stuff.

I've looked into Filemaker and that seems to be around $40 on eBay and $450 on Amazon.

I'm working on a book and a DB file would be nice to manage stuff like I used to.

Thanks

Well, I have used Numbers in a pinch. The DB opens with the data in cells.
Fortunately my DBs were fairly small.
