I don't personally use streaming services but many of those I'm doing my TOS rewatch with this year are. That was cut short in the tail end of season 2 last week by CBS/Paramount+ decided they would no longer lease TOS, VOY, or ENT to Netflix. From now on they are only available on CBS's own streaming service, Paramount+.

Streaming sure does suck. It gets people dependent upon it then it gets worse or raises the price or both.

Luckily for my TOS re-watch group I torrented TOS and stored the episodes on disk. So now I just upload an episode to my server for everyone to download every sunday.

Thanks CBS. You're doing a great job pushing people back to piracy.

Looks like Netflix is removing TNG now too.

>Star Trek: The Next Generation will be packing up all seven seasons and departing Netflix in April 2022, according to Whats On Netflix. This puts the popular sci-fi drama exclusively on Paramount Plus just like the others that have already left Netflix. The Animated Series left in December 2019. Almost one year later, in October 2021, the Original Series, Star Trek: Enterprise, and Star Trek: Voyager were removed from the streaming channel.

One of the Free-to-Air networks has been broadcasting ST:TOS, ST:TNG, St:Voy and St:ENT over and over, five or ten eps per week, for YEARS.

But I can't recall the last time I saw any ST:DS9. Is this series not really considered part of the ST Universe?? Because it was set on a Space Station rather than an actual Space Ship, maybe!!

Yep, P+ wants 2 host & show all 4 $. Look at Disney with its Star Wars, Marvel, etc. Same idea. :(

Picard, winter, and Paralympics (good opening ceremony) are back again. A surprisingly quiet Thursday to catch up and watch videos after the slammy hump day (passed out after 10:03 PM PST to unlucky ~4:44 AM PST).

Note: A fixed width font (Courier, Monospace, etc.) is required to see this signature correctly.
