Look for a bad special effect next time you see the movie:
the close-up of Luke's Light Saber about 2/3 of the way through the movie (I won't describe the scene since that would constitute a semi-spoiler.) It looks like a flashlight with silver Christmas paper wrapped around it. It even has a box on the side that looks sort of like the magnet-pack for flashlights that stick to things.
You'd think with a budget of $32 M that they'd be able to do a little better.
