Home Computer Magazine H, formerly 99'er, no longer carries outside advertising. The know cover TI99/4a, PC jr. Apple and Comodore. There publishing schedule over the past year has been sporadic at best. The have know decided to publish on a 10 issue per year schedule. The only advertising in the magazine is for there own products. They do publish a DIGEST now, about 9 times a year, with advertizing mostly for the TI machine. This is only available to actual subscribers and not to news stand buyers.
