Anyone rich enough willing to pitch in on a Tsushin Booster?

There's a prototype of this unit up for sale at Yahoo Japan auctions, starting at 50,000 yen.
http://page9.auctions.yahoo.co.jp/jp/auction/k13251242 It would be great to have this dumped for emulation purposes.

Or, if any of you already have a Tsushin Booster prototype (hint hint), why not share your knowledge with the rest of the Turbo list?

Cheers!

Subject: list's rules on selling items?

I have a duo system I want to get rid of along with some games and other stuff. Ebay cancelled it twice because I had CDRs in the auction, which I suppose is reasonable with copyright laws.... but of course they'll do me no good after the system is gone so I was going to give them away with the package. The second time they cancelled it, it was because of my kisado adapter. Apparantly ebay has a policy on no import adapters now. Boy was I pissed!

Anyways, I'm just wondering about the list's rules and policies on selling items through the list. I was going to offer it as a silent auction. How would that be?

Thanks for your help
