I've been reading more about possible ST4 movie plots on CompuServe. Please remember, I'm only the messenger. The latest is an all-out war between the Federation and the Klingons, I assume over the Genesis project. This could be true, since in ST3, there were "Galactic Conferences" going on over Genesis. On the other hand, I've also read that producer Harve Bennet and director Nimoy have just started recruiting writers. If true, how could anyone know the plot? A war between the Feds and the Klingons could be a good plot, if a little more imagination is put into it. However, such a plot might not appeal to non-trekkies. Any comments?

"So we have war. We didn't want it, but there it is."

"Curious how you humans manage to obtain that which you do not want."

Only one major problem; the Organians wouldn't allow it. I recently posted the contents of a treatment and comments from George (Sulu) Takei to net.startrek. as far as I can tell, these are fairly accurate. When STIII:TSFS came out, I had seen the treatment from the same source as this one, and the only major changes were that the original treatment I saw used the Romulans instead of the Klingons I should have more solid information in around a month or two.....
