I am almost finished adding galleries for the games I have previously saved screenshots of in the 32X game library. You'll have to type 32x in the system field and hit enter to see just the 32X game library. I'll have to work on that option at some point, but I thought I'd fish for feedback on how the games show a single screenshot below them, and if you click on the game title you can see the rest of the screenshots.

I've also attempted to make my life easier with the transition by not redoing the old mouse over comparisons. The lightbox pop up for pictures will allow you to flip forward and backward in the gallery, and any comparison pictures will be aptly named and the user will be able to flip forward and backward to see the difference.

Examples:
Shinobi III
Space Harrier II
Street Fighter II Special Champion Edition
Super Street Fighter II
Ranger X

As I have become accustomed to the fact that I'm the only one really interested in this crap I will keep plugging along while I wait for replies.

Oh, and digitpress got Shinobi III's title wrong, snicker
Forgone the previous and current gen library lists until much later.
Currently loading 32X media to the Library's game pages.
--
Scott

http://www.gamepilgrimage.com