From the keyboard on the rock!

Has anyone out there in net land had experience with the Memotech expansion keyboard for the TS1000/ZX81?

I am seriously considering this as a possibility and would appreciate any comments, flames, complaints even. Also if any of you have had experience dealing with Memotech feel free to voice your opinions.

I am posting this to the net since out here in the boonies it is hard to find even moderately priced hardware for anything.
