My brother, who is an avid TS-1000 fan, is looking for sources for TS-1000 software (and possibly hardware). He is particularly interested in sources of "public-domain" software.

Additionally, he runs a T/S Users Group. He publishes a newsletter at regular intervals, and sends out software tapes. He also is selling his own ~rsoftware at very reasonable prices. He is interested in adding new members, so if you are interested, please write to him at the following address-- Please indicate that you heard about the Users Group on Newsnet... I will also take replies here via email, but writing to him would be more direct.

Thank you very much.
