The latest I'm seeing for rec.arts.tv.mst3k.misc is a week ago, on Aug 1, 2011. I posted a couple since then, but I can't see them. Does anyone else?

Yes, I see them. It helps considerably that I'm not using Google Groups.
(But how are you going to see this?!)

If you're using Google Groups, that's the explanation.

Sampo (Just say no to Google Groups)

I'm using albasani for USENET groups; see <http://www.albasani.net>

Well, I've been busy as all heck at the printshop lately, but mostly I haven't had much to share.

Oh, I see it *now*. But whether you see *this* or not is apparently QUESTIONABLE on a QUANTUM level!

(I was thinking that one could use an alternative path through the Internet. Perhaps one could imagine a version of the old "Pony Express" shrunk to a series of ones and zeros. Perhaps one might call it "Electronic Mail", where "Electronic Mail" is highlighted in the manner of a HUGO STIGLITZ!)

You've broken the indeterminate potentiality status by casual observation!

You've doomed us all, maybe.
