
Subject: Hard disk for TI Portable Professional
Posted by dick on Sat, 13 Dec 1986 00:05:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Article-I.D.: plx.430
Posted: Fri Dec 12 19:05:51 1986
Date-Received: Mon, 15-Dec-86 21:47:48 EST
Reply-To: dick@plx.UUCP (Dick Flanagan)
Distribution: na
Organization: Plexus Computers; San Jose, CA
Lines: 15

A close friend has a TI Portable Professional running MS-DOS 2.1. I would like to install a hard disk in it for Christmas, but I'm unsure just how incompatible the TI is from the IBM PCs that I'm used to.

Can I simply get one of the two-for-a-quarter Western Digital 3/4 card controllers (the kind that most vendors include with their hard disks), or does the TI require some strange (i.e., expensive) controller?

Thanks for all help, ideas, or suggestions. . .

--

Dick Flanagan

...!ucbvax!decvax!decwrl!sun!plx!dick
Snappy Saying: Those who can, fly. Those who can't, work.