

---

Subject: Re:MSDOS<>CP/M KAYPRO (only)
Posted by shawn on Wed, 28 Jan 1987 17:03:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Article-I.D.: brl-adm.4033
Posted: Wed Jan 28 12:03:55 1987
Date-Received: Fri, 30-Jan-87 00:43:30 EST
Sender: news@brl-adm.ARPA
Lines: 28

There are a group of files available from simtel20
that were released to the public domain by KAYPRO to do disk formatting to/from other systems.
pd:mfdisk.inf is a note from the releaser
at KAYPRO.

The files are as follows:
pd:mfdisk2.com for ss/dd KAYPROs
pd:mfdisk4.com for ds/dd KAYPROs
pd:mfdisk10.com for ds/dd KAYPROs with Hard Disks

I have not used these programs, but they were supposed to have been in use by the masses before release to the domain. I had purchased UNIFORM before I found out about these. UNIFORM is an easy to use program, and I have not had a problem with it. It supports ds/dd formats where I have heard that other commercially available programs don't.
If you get the mfdisk programs up and running, perhaps you could
let the net know.

Take Care
Shawn Miner
shawn@acc.arpa
From Sunny Santa Barbara where it rained last night.
But thats OK, cause if I remember right, thats the first time this month. Gee it rains so seldom its hard to keep track.

-----