

---

Subject: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by RT on Thu, 11 Feb 2016 17:59:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

<http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-board-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>

GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from

Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot, drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

....

---

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Your Name on Thu, 11 Feb 2016 20:20:29 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

In article <56BCCBEA.A0EF999A@hotmail.com>, RT <traREskyMOVE@hotmail.com> wrote:

>
> <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-board-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>
>

> GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from

> Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited > expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot, drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

> ...

Nope. It's just yet another crappy re-re-boot further confusing and destroying the franchise. Just ignore it and hopefully it will go away.
:-\

Some of these reporters are (as usual) getting their facts completely confused. They're saying this new movie was started way back by Bryan

Singer. The reality is that Bryan Singer was doing a proper follow-on TV series to the original show, but when he had to pull out, Moore-Ron was brought in and the whole thing changed to a crappy "realisitic" re-boot.

---

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Anonymous on Sat, 03 Dec 2022 19:16:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Originally posted by: mummycullen

> RT wrote:

>

> <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>

>

> GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in > development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi
> channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from

> Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited

> expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot, > drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

> ....

And.... where is the movie?

This is a response to the post seen at:

<http://www.jlaforums.com/viewtopic.php?p=329264337#329264337>

---

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Your Name on Sat, 03 Dec 2022 21:24:34 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On 2022-12-03 19:16:17 +0000, MummyChunk said:

>> RT wrote:

>>

> <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>

>

>>

>> GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in >> development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi
>> channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from

>> Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited

>> expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot,
>> drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

>> ....

>

> And.... where is the movie?

As of January 2022, a movie (at least one, possibly two different ones)
and another TV series were still in the works.

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Anonymous on Sun, 04 Dec 2022 08:40:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Originally posted by: Daniel65

Your Name wrote on 4/12/22 8:24 am:

> On 2022-12-03 19:16:17 +0000, MummyChunk said:

>

>> > RT wrote:

>> >

>> <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>

>>

>> >

>> > Michael De Luca has signed on to produce Universal's feature
>> > adaptation of Glen A. Larson's beloved series BATTLESTAR >> > GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in >> > development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi
>> > channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from >> > Universal's sister company NBC Universal Television. Sci-Fi's
>> > Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited >> > as one of the net's best programs, but the feature version is >> > expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot, >> > drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

>> > ....

>>

>> And.... where is the movie?

>

> As of January 2022, a movie (at least one, possibly two different ones)
> and another TV series were still in the works.
>
>
Memory failing ..... Hasn't Battlestar Galactica already had to T.V.
series starts already??

And now another one!! Sure, it's a movie but which series is it going to follow on from??

--
Daniel

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Your Name on Sun, 04 Dec 2022 19:57:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On 2022-12-04 08:40:05 +0000, Daniel65 said:

> Your Name wrote on 4/12/22 8:24 am:

>> On 2022-12-03 19:16:17 +0000, MummyChunk said:

>>> > RT wrote:

>>> >

>>> <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>

>>>

>>> >

>>> > Michael De Luca has signed on to produce Universal's feature
>>> > adaptation of Glen A. Larson's beloved series BATTLESTAR >>> > GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in >>> > development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi
>>> > channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from >>> > Universal's sister company NBC Universal Television. Sci-Fi's
>>> > Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited
>>> > as one of the net's best programs, but the feature version is >>> > expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot,
>>> > drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

>>> > ....

>>>

>>> And.... where is the movie?

>>

>> As of January 2022, a movie (at least one, possibly two different ones)
>> and another TV series were still in the works.

>

> Memory failing ..... Hasn't Battlestar Galactica already had to T.V.
> series starts already??

There has been Moore-Ron's awful "reboot" series and its spin-off
TV-movies and shows.

> And now another one!! Sure, it's a movie but which series is it going > to follow on from??

There are multiple projects in various states of progress, but none remotely close to any casting or filming, and likely may never get made.

< <https://collider.com/battlestar-galactica-movie-tv-show-shared-universe-simon-kinberg-comments/>>

< <https://www.denofgeek.com/tv/battlestar-galactica-new-movie-tv-shared-universe/>>

There are projects that ignore Moore-Ron's version and "Galactica 1980" to be a follow-on to the original series (set decades later), projects that somehow magically link the original series and Moore-Ron's version, projects that completely re-boot the idea again.

Like "Star Trek", and the Marvel and DC superheroes, the Galactica franchise is now such a confused mess of conflicting versions thanks to talentless idiots with their own ideas of what it "should" have been, that it has been killed off entirely. :-(

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Anonymous on Mon, 05 Dec 2022 06:39:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Originally posted by: mummycullen

>>> On 2022-12-04 08:40:05 +0000, Daniel65 said:
>>> Your Name wrote on 4/12/22 8:24 am:
>>> On 2022-12-03 19:16:17 +0000, MummyChunk said:
>>> > RT wrote:
>>>
>>>
<http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>
>>>
>>>
>>> > Michael De Luca has signed on to produce Universal's feature
>>> > adaptation of Glen A. Larson's beloved series BATTLESTAR >>> > GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in > > > > development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi

> > > > channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from > > > > Universal's sister company NBC Universal Television.
Sci-Fi's
> > > > Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited
> > > > as one of the net's best programs, but the feature version is > > > > expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot,
> > > > drawing instead from the original 1978 series.
> > > > ....
> > >
> > > And.... where is the movie?
> > >
> > > As of January 2022, a movie (at least one, possibly two different ones)
> > > and another TV series were still in the works.
> > >
> > > Memory failing ..... Hasn't Battlestar Galactica already had to T.V.
> > > series starts already??
> > >
> >
> >
> > There has been Moore-Ron's awful "reboot" series and its spin-off
> > TV-movies and shows.
> >
> >
> >
> > And now another one!! Sure, it's a movie but which series is it going
> > to follow on from??
> >
> Your Name wrote:
>
>
> There are multiple projects in various states of progress, but none > remotely close to any casting or filming, and likely may never get made.

>
>
<https://collider.com/battlestar-galactica-movie-tv-show-shar> ed-universe-simon-kinberg-comments/

>
>
>

<https://www.denofgeek.com/tv/battlestar-galactica-new-movie- tv-shared-universe/>

>
>
>

> There are projects that ignore Moore-Ron's version and "Galactica 1980"

> to be a follow-on to the original series (set decades later), projects > that somehow magically link the original series and Moore-Ron's version, projects that completely re-boot the idea again.

>

> Like "Star Trek", and the Marvel and DC superheroes, the Galactica

> franchise is now such a confused mess of conflicting versions thanks to > talentless idiots with their own ideas of what it "should" have been,

> that it has been killed off entirely. :-(

I rather enjoyed the series with Edward James Olmos

Just wish the ending had been better regardless of the visuals

From WP

*****

Other critics, even those who wrote rave reviews about the first two seasons of the series, felt that a major drop in quality occurred in the third season, continuing into the fourth and final season. In particular, the controversial series finale drew heavy criticism, largely due to the view that it failed to explain many of the main plotlines which had been teased throughout the series' run. Charlie Jane Anders of io9.com wrote:

Even Battlestar Galactica couldn't be Battlestar Galactica for longer than a few years. By halfway through the third season, the cracks are pretty apparent, as the show detours into romance subplots. The writers start throwing out curveballs like randomly selected Cylons and Starbuck's inexplicable (and unexplained) resurrection. By the time the show ended, its mystique was somewhat tarnished, and its ending remains controversial.[85]

Anders later included the series in her list of "10 Once-Great TV Shows (And The Exact Moments They Started to Suck)", saying:

There was a time, not long ago, when BSG was considered the gold standard for science fiction television. Tense, multilayered, things we always clamor for but seldom get. The show stumbled somewhat in its third season, with the boxing episode and a boring love triangle. But it didn't actually become raw suckage until Starbuck died for no reason, and then came back from the dead for no reason. The writers have basically admitted they had no plan for killing and do, and they would figure out the reasons later. And thus, we ended up with a year of Starbuck Interrupted, constantly shouting "You're going the wrong way!" and playing the piano while talking about her daddy.[86]

In a Commentary article on the prevalence of Bush Derangement Syndrome in popular culture, Jonah Goldberg analyzed the show's "radically bizarre and nonsensical turn of events ... that led inexorably to its self-destruction":

Originally, the series was very difficult to pigeonhole ideologically. ... When it came time to make the third season ... a show marked by gritty realism about how a decent but flawed civilization modeled on our own tries to cling to its decency while fighting an existential war against an implacable enemy veered wildly off course. The humans were no longer analogized to Americans; rather Americans were analogized to genocidal occupiers. In other words, we are no longer the inspiration for the futuristic Israelites trying to survive. We are now the Nazis.[87]

Fantasy author George R.R. Martin expressed his dissatisfaction with how the writers handled the ending of the TV series, commenting:

Battlestar Galactica ends with 'God Did It.' Looks like somebody skipped Writing 101, when you learn that a deus ex machina is a crappy way to end a story... Yeah, yeah, sometimes the journey is its own reward. I certainly enjoyed much of the journey with BSG... But damn it, doesn't anybody know how to write an ending any more? Writing 101, kids. Adam and Eve, God Did It, It Was All a Dream? I've seen Clarion students left stunned and bleeding for turning in stories with those endings.[88]

Josh Tyler of Television Blend concluded that the series finale made no real attempt to resolve any of the plotlines or mysteries set up during the earlier run of the show.[89]

This is a response to the post seen at:
<http://www.jlaforums.com/viewtopic.php?p=329264337#329264337>

---

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Anonymous on Mon, 05 Dec 2022 08:36:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Originally posted by: Daniel65

Your Name wrote on 5/12/22 6:57 am:

> On 2022-12-04 08:40:05 +0000, Daniel65 said:

>> Your Name wrote on 4/12/22 8:24 am:

>>> On 2022-12-03 19:16:17 +0000, MummyChunk said:

>>>> > RT wrote:

>>>> >

>>>> <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>

>>>>

>>>> >

>>>> > Michael De Luca has signed on to produce Universal's feature
>>>> > adaptation of Glen A. Larson's beloved series BATTLESTAR >>>> > GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in >>>> > development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi
>>>> > channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from >>>> > Universal's sister company NBC Universal Television. Sci-Fi's
>>>> > Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited
>>>> > as one of the net's best programs, but the feature version is >>>> > expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot,
>>>> > drawing instead from the original 1978 series.

>>>> > ....

>>>>

>>>> And.... where is the movie?

>>>

>>> As of January 2022, a movie (at least one, possibly two different >>> ones) and another TV series were still in the works.

>>

>> Memory failing ..... Hasn't Battlestar Galactica already had to T.V. >> series starts already??

>

> There has been Moore-Ron's awful "reboot" series and its spin-off
> TV-movies and shows.

>

>> And now another one!! Sure, it's a movie but which series is it going >> to follow on from??

>

> There are multiple projects in various states of progress, but none
> remotely close to any casting or filming, and likely may never get made.
>
> < <https://collider.com/battlestar-galactica-movie-tv-show-shared-universe-simon-kinberg-comments/>>
>
> < <https://www.denofgeek.com/tv/battlestar-galactica-new-movie-tv-shared-universe/>>
>
> There are projects that ignore Moore-Ron's version and "Galactica 1980"
> to be a follow-on to the original series (set decades later), projects > that somehow magically link the original series and Moore-Ron's version, > projects that completely re-boot the idea again.
>
> Like "Star Trek", and the Marvel and DC superheroes, the Galactica
> franchise is now such a confused mess of conflicting versions thanks to > talentless idiots with their own ideas of what it "should" have been,
> that it has been killed off entirely. :-(
>
Are you, Your Name, typing about "Battlestar Galactica" or about recent "Doctor Who"?? ;-)
Shame how that can happen.
--
Daniel

---

---

Subject: Re: Galactica movie a "Go"
Posted by Your Name on Mon, 05 Dec 2022 21:08:43 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On 2022-12-05 08:36:55 +0000, Daniel65 said:
> Your Name wrote on 5/12/22 6:57 am:
>> On 2022-12-04 08:40:05 +0000, Daniel65 said:
>>> Your Name wrote on 4/12/22 8:24 am:
>>>> On 2022-12-03 19:16:17 +0000, MummyChunk said:
>>>> > RT wrote:
>>>> > >
>>>> > <http://www.tracking-board.com/exclusive-michael-de-luca-boards-universals-battlestar-galactica-reboot/>
>>>> >
>>>> > >
>>>> > > Michael De Luca has signed on to produce Universal's feature
>>>> > > adaptation of Glen A. Larson's beloved series BATTLESTAR >>>> > > GALACTICA. The long-gestating project has reportedly been in >>>> > > development since 1999, but it was put on hold when the Sci-Fi
>>>> > > channel picked up its series adaptation, which hailed from >>>> > > Universal's sister company NBC Universal Television. Sci-Fi's
>>>> > > Battlestar Galactica ran for four seasons and is often cited
>>>> > > as one of the net's best programs, but the feature version is >>>> > > expected to be wholly separate from the television reboot,

>>>> > > drawing instead from the original 1978 series.
>>>> > > ....
>>>> >
>>>> > And.... where is the movie?
>>>>
>>>> As of January 2022, a movie (at least one, possibly two different ones)
>>>> and another TV series were still in the works.
>>>
>>> Memory failing ..... Hasn't Battlestar Galactica already had to T.V. >>> series starts already??
>>
>> There has been Moore-Ron's awful "reboot" series and its spin-off
>> TV-movies and shows.
>>
>>> And now another one!! Sure, it's a movie but which series is it going >>> to follow on from??
>>
>> There are multiple projects in various states of progress, but none >> remotely close to any casting or filming, and likely may never get made.
>>
>> < <https://collider.com/battlestar-galactica-movie-tv-show-shared-universe-simon-kinberg-comments/>>
>>
>> < <https://www.denofgeek.com/tv/battlestar-galactica-new-movie-tv-shared-universe/>>
>>
>> There are projects that ignore Moore-Ron's version and "Galactica 1980"
>> to be a follow-on to the original series (set decades later), projects >> that somehow magically link the original series and Moore-Ron's >> version, projects that completely re-boot the idea again.
>>
>> Like "Star Trek", and the Marvel and DC superheroes, the Galactica
>> franchise is now such a confused mess of conflicting versions thanks to >> talentless idiots with their own ideas of what it "should" have been,
>> that it has been killed off entirely. :-(
>
> Are you, Your Name, typing about "Battlestar Galactica" or about recent
> "Doctor Who"?? ;-) Shame how that can happen.

"Doctor Who" is another franchise that has been killed, but that was due to fools stupidly gender-swapping (and now race-swapping) the white male character simply to appease the "Politically Correct" morons. :-(

---