If anyone has installed the app, I'd be interested in any feedback.

Thanks,
Trevor

I have and been listening to Antic. The podcast will stop playing at random points and there us no way to exit the app without going in and forcing it to stop. I have also had to remove my battery to clear the app.

I've been listening to podcasts with the Car Cast app. But the last time I tried upgrading to the latest version, it would crash. If you have that problem, try downloading an earlier version from f-droid.org. (the only android site I know that lets you choose from multiple versions of an app).

That's odd. Are you streaming, or downloading and then playing? If streaming, do you have a stable Internet connection?

And what device and OS version are you using?

It has been playing fine lately with no issues. The app has closed at random a few times. If you'd like more info you can email me. Jerryoung@gmail.com
