I just came across a couple of iLamp G4s. They are currently running 10.3, and I think I have 10.5.8 around somewhere.

I would like to set them up in my stores with a constantly running slide show. I know Graphic converter can do it, but anyone know a free app from that era that can? Preview doesn't.

Thanks,

Len

You can use the slide-show screen saver on them and unplug the keyboard & mouse....

DOH, didn't think about that. Thanks.

Last screensaver I had running had a toaster with wings (and for you young un's, it wasn't on Red Bull). Now get off my lawn

I liked the "bad dog" version where a mutt would tear up, re-arrange icons and squirt the trash can...
