A friend of mine says that he has had a recent email from Maurice Randall about his SuperCPU order placed back in 2004...! Dun dun dunnnnn!

Regards,

Shaun.

I had some conversation with MR a few months ago about the same thing, but nothing recently. Hopefully he's about to build a new batch.

Hmm, I wonder if I should see if he'll take a new order for one... I'm retiring in 17 years and I'll need something to do then. :P

I'm sure that we'll find out what it's all about, but I doubt that the SuperCPU is about to make a come back.

Regards,

Shaun.

How many people have died in the years they were left to wait for their stuff from MR?

Sadly, we will never know. But no one that I know that ordered from Maurice has passed away.

Regards,

Shaun.

I know Lord Ronin sent a drive for repair and never got it back despite many requests. Sadly he's no longer with us.

Indeed, rest in peace Lord Ronin.

I can confirm that the SuperCPU is not about to make a comeback, not at least in its' CMD form (of course, there is the emulator).

Regards,

Shaun.

Now would be a good time to email Maurice again as he's had your stuff for the best part of a decade, it's still the same email address as was.

Regards,

Shaun.

Spending your life waiting for the Messiah to come save the world is like waiting around for the straight piece to come in Tetris. Even if it comes, by that time you've accumulated a mountain of shit so high that you're fucked no matter what you do.

Bwahahahahahaha... sorry, but getting anything returned from that lowlife is unlikely.
