
Subject: Kinokuniya manga shop
Posted by sellers on Wed, 27 Mar 2013 20:09:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

From Newsgroup: rec.arts.anime.misc

Warning! Rant!

I have been eagerly awaiting the release of Genshiken Second Season(aka Nidame) volume 2. This was originally scheduled for the 19th of March. I went there then and it was not on hand.

I came home and checked the net and it had been moved back to today. I went to the shop here in San Francisco today and it had not even been ordered i learned on enquiry.

Well I should have it in a week or so as I have ordered it from TRSI this morning and pre-ordered volume 3 due out in September.

The anime is not yet scheduled for release in the USA otherwise I would have pre-ordered it today.

Last week the scanlator dealing with Genshiken Nidame was threatened by Kodansha. I think I may write a nasty letter as without scanlation I would not even know this was worth bothering with. Good news is that the scanlator completed Yonensei and is presently busy with Gonensei These are the earlier works of Shimoko Kio which like his better known work deal with young adults and their relationships.

bliss

--- Synchronet 3.13a-Win32 NewsLink 1.83

Subject: Re: Kinokuniya manga shop
Posted by Dave Baranyi on Wed, 27 Mar 2013 20:28:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

From Newsgroup: rec.arts.anime.misc

Bobbie Sellers <bliss-sf4ever@dslextreme.com> wrote:

> Warning! Rant!

>

> I have been eagerly awaiting the release of Genshiken Second Season(aka Nidame) volume 2. This was originally scheduled for the 19th of March. I went there then and it was not on hand.

> I came home and checked the net and it had been moved back to today. I went to the shop here in San Francisco today and it had not even been ordered i learned on enquiry.

> Well I should have it in a week or so as I have ordered it > from TRSI this morning and pre-ordered volume 3 due out in September.

>
> The anime is not yet scheduled for release in the USA otherwise
> I would have pre-ordered it today.
>
> Last week the scanlator dealing with Genshiken Nidame was > threatened by Kodansha. I think I may write a nasty letter as without > scanlation I would not even know this was worth bothering with.
> Good news is that the scanlator completed Yonensei and is presently > busy with Gonensei These are the earlier works of Shimoko Kio which > like his better known work deal with young adults and their relationships.
>
> bliss
>

Kodansha is pushing e-book versions of its manga pretty hard, and through lots of channels, so I'm not surprised that they hunt down fan-scanners.

Of course, that e-book strategy is Japan-specific, so if you want e-manga in English you should be writing to Kodansha US and let them know. You can also ask them for "teaser" pages to their manga so that you can sample them. (There are plenty of those on the Kodansha Japan manga sites.)

Good luck -

--- Synchronet 3.13a-Win32 NewsLink 1.83

Subject: Re: Kinokuniya manga shop
Posted by Salvatore on Wed, 27 Mar 2013 21:09:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

From Newsgroup: rec.arts.anime.misc

On 2013-03-27, Bobbie Sellers <bliss-sf4ever@dslextrreme.com> wrote:
> Well I should have it in a week or so as I have ordered it > from TRSI this morning and pre-ordered volume 3 due out in September.

Apparently, a few people have already had volume 2 delivered to them from Amazon. Where online was it mentioned that the release had been delayed?

--

Blah blah bleh...

GCS/CM d(-)@>-- s+:- !a C++$ UBL++++$ L+$ W+++$ w M++ Y++ b++

--- Synchronet 3.13a-Win32 NewsLink 1.83

Subject: Re: Kinokuniya manga shop
Posted by sellers on Wed, 27 Mar 2013 22:00:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

From Newsgroup: rec.arts.anime.misc

On 03/27/2013 12:28 PM, Dave Baranyi wrote:

> Bobbie Sellers<bliss-sf4ever@dslextrreme.com> wrote:

>

>> Warning! Rant!

>>

>> I have been eagerly awaiting the release of Genshiken Second Season(aka >> Nidame) volume 2. This was originally scheduled for the >> 19th of March. I went there then and it was not on hand.

>> I came home and checked the net and it had been moved back >> to today. I went to the shop here in San Francisco today and it >> had not even been ordered i learned on enquiry.

>> Well I should have it in a week or so as I have ordered it >> from TRSI this morning and pre-ordered volume 3 due out in September.

>>

>> The anime is not yet scheduled for release in the USA otherwise
>> I would have pre-ordered it today.

>>

>> Last week the scanalator dealing with Genshiken Nidame was >> threatened by Kodansha. I think I may write a nasty letter as without >> scanalation I would not even know this was worth bothering with.
>> Good news is that the scanalator completed Yonensei and is presently >> busy with Gonensei These are the earlier works of Shimoko Kio which >> like his better known work deal with young adults and their relationships.

>>

>> bliss

>>

>

> Kodansha is pushing e-book versions of its manga pretty hard, and through > lots of channels, so I'm not surprised that they hunt down fan-scanners.

>

> Of course, that e-book strategy is Japan-specific, so if you want e-manga in > English you should be writing to Kodansha US and let them know. You can also > ask them for "teaser" pages to their manga so that you can sample them.
> (There are plenty of those on the Kodansha Japan manga sites.)

>

> Good luck -

>

By the way I don't have any liking for e-books as I want stuff I can pick up in my hands and read with no more than enough light to see by.

I don't own an e-book specific reader nor yet any tablet because the tablet(s) I want have to have a keyboard that attaches and high resolution not high definition as on TV. That tablet with keyboard will run me over $700 (USD) and will have resolution of 1900 x 1200 pixels. I am saving for it.

I hope what I want is still on the market when I have either the cash or the credit to pay for it. In the meantime I am stuck with sticking about $150/month on the cc to pay for an herbal medication that may be helping my refractory fatigue syndrome and a medication hat my Part D insurer will not pay for.

Young people should emulate the Japanese and save like there is no other use for money. I did not and now have to fight for every penny I spend on my hobbies which are not only anime and manga but computing using GNU/Linux.

Oh and Dave thanks for your informative postings about new shows.

bliss

--- Synchronet 3.13a-Win32 NewsLink 1.83
