Pat Iurilli (pat@pyuxqq) wants us all to know that:

> A company in Boston sells a software package called the 'pc toolbox', > which includes 53 UNIX utilities that were rewritten to run under pc-dos.
> It costs $200.00. [Company name is Arts Computer Products]

> These include: (a short description has been included for the novice)

(... here was a list of many of the V6 utilities)
