They're selling them down on King Street.

A 520 ST, with disk drive and monitor and what software there is, is available now, for $1400 Canadian (about $980 U.S). If I were so inclined (and had $1400 just laying around the house waiting to be spent) I could have one today.

So far, the Commodore Amiga is just vaporware... though if Commodore actually does release it, it promises to be a nice machine (I'll believe it when I see it).
