Ha ha. Just kiddin'... we like MST3K okay...

Although what we do is LIKE MST3K, it is also something else entirely, something quite its own proper lil' mutant form...

Here at DogKnob Laboratories, we've used advanced gene splicing, nanotechnology and the latest time-travel innovations to swoop into 1958 and snatch a really crisp n' sweet copy of the b-rate British horror film The Trollenberg Terror (aka The Crawling Eye)...

Then we brought it back here into the present and we... DID things to it.

Strange things... unspeakable things.

FUNNY things.

We'd like to offer you a free sample of the first 15 minutes of our unique take on this moldy ol' classic!

To view our unnatural and unholy spawn, go to

Or check out our Crawling Eye music video:

Hope you enjoy!

"DogKnob Laboratories"

(Image of Eric Cartman pops in mind with the words, "Red Rocket! Red Rocket!")

Hmm... "DogKnob" + "gene splicing" + "time-travel" =
UNGVICHIAN? Have you rejoined us at last?

I figure since they've finally released most of the Animaniacs, Freakazoid, Pinky & the Brain, and Tiny Toons on DVD the release of ROAD ROVERS is inevitable. I was more than happy when they finally released the entire "Adventures of the Galaxy Rangers" DVD box set (great series, aged mostly well).
