Hi all, I've been trying to find Devin Cook's MST3K Creeping Error program, but have not been able to find it... the web site Google keeps picking up from the search (once you've eliminated all references of "creeping terror") is no longer existing...

Does anyone happen to have an old copy anywhere they could send my way?

I'd really appreciate it, and there'd be a gift of a number of MST3K video files of their choosing that they may be missing for the lucky person...

Regards,

Eliseo

I don't believe that I've heard of this before, but I am intrigued. What is/was it?
